Alpe Adria 2014

TERRAIN:

Race terrain in Cansiglio is particularly insidious with numerous changes in terrain's level and rock formations. Due to one of the mildest winter on record you will encounter a particularly lush vegetation (especially in the clearings marked in yellow on your map). Many tracks on the ground were made by animals and have not been mapped.

Please note that the karst terrain of Cansiglio is characterized by many creeks and sinkholes that can be several hundreds meters deep. We marked and fenced all the most dangerous ones, we ask however to proceed with the greatest care.

We recommend therefore taping and long pants.

The sprint race will take place entirely in the city center, which will be closed to traffic for the occasion. It is advisable, however, to pay attention to any emergency vehicle that might on the roads.

MAPS

For Long race map of the categories 21-34 MW will be used the 1:15000 scale but for all other categories the used scale will be 1:10.000.

1:4.000 scale will be used for the Sprint race.

The maps for the Middle and Long races are printed in letterpress Pantone ® colors on non-decaing paper. The maps for the Relay and Sprint races are laser printed in CMYK on non-decaing paper.

Plastic bags are available at the start of each race to protect your map in case of rain.

TIME KEEPING and PUNCHING

The SportIdent ® System will be used for electronic punching and timekeeping. In case of station point's failure a manual punch is required in the appropriate box. The categories MW Senior will use the "SportIdent Contact Less System + Air ®" during the Sprint race (instructions are available upon request.).

ON SITE REGISTRATION FOR BEGINNERS

In all events one can sign up on the spot for the following categories: White (Beginners) and Red (similar to M16/M45). These categories do not have a starting list, and runners can start when they show-up by using the "Punch Start System". Both Red and White categories will have a dedicated starting point and those will be just a few meters across from each other. (please follow the instructions)

RACE BIB

All participants will receive a race number to be used in all competitions. Site registries (categories White and Red) will compete without bib.
